FARMERS LOSE HEAVILY IN COMO SECTION.

Mr. G. C. Picat, of Como, N. C., was in Norfolk yesterday and told to a representative of this paper a wonderful story of a pack of wolves that has infested the track of timber at the intersection of the Chowan and Meherrin rivers, near his place. Mr. Picat stated that within the past eighteen months the farmers thereabouts, who turned their sheep and pigs out to graze in this timber, had lost about 350 head of these animals by the voracity of the wolves, without knowing what the cause of their loss was, until a small negro, with a cheap muzzle loading shot gun, journeyed forth to kill squirrels and saw a large she wolf chasing a hog. The little fellow pluckily stood his ground, and when the wolf was passing within twenty yards of him, he discharged his load of squirrel shot at the brute with such good aim that the dead carcass was found in the wood a day or so later.

The body was hauled to Como and

THE HOLOCAUST

At Galveston Described by Eye-Witness--Force of Wind and Wave

was related yesterday morning in the shipping office of Col. William E. Lamb, in the Citizens' Bank building. It was told by Capt. F. de Bengoa and presents a vivid picture of the appalling disaster.

Captain Bengoa is the commander of the Spanish steamship Ramon de Larrinaga, the first vessel to arrive in Norfolk from Galveston since the ter-rilic storm there on the 8th and 9th of rilic storm there on the 8th and 9th of September. He sajled from Galveston on the 12th and arrived at Lambert's Point yesterday for bunker coal. He has aboard 137,965 bushels of wheat for Newcastle-on-the-Tyne, in Scotiand. Captain Bengon's ship was lying at a pier in Galveston when the storm first began to develop. He had finished taking on cargo and was ashore getting his clearance papers for Norfolk when the tide began to sweep over the "island city."

By the time he had "cleared" at the Custom-house the wind was blowing at the brute with such good aim that the dead carcass was found in the wood a day or so later.

The body was hauled to Como and was found to measure six and one-half feet from nose to tip of tail and weighed 140 nounds, and the fangs were about two inches long. It was said to belong to the clouded wolf species. Shortly after this Mr. Pleat caught in steel traps in his field four cubs of different ages and colors, one being solid black, the others of tawny colors, with black backs and gray heads.

The people at Como and surrounding country are very much excited over the presence of the wolves, as they are very numerous, and the authorities have offered a reward of $10 for every head brought in.

The little daughter of Mr. Julian down on Main street yesterday after and Mrs. Dupuy, the wife of Dr. Dupuy, of Kempsville, were crossing the street opposite Burrow's drug store, Mr. P. G. Lunn came along on a wheel. He ran upon the child and threw her to the avenent. The child was carried into the drug store and examined by Dr. Dupuy, He gave the child something to quiet her nerves and stated that otherwise she seemed not to be affected by the accident.

Meantime a pollceman detained Mr. Lunn till the child was examined and pronounced not hurt, and until the ladies and Dr. Dupuy declined to make any formal complaint. Then Mr. Lunn was allowed to go.

He explained that the accident was unavoidable. The child turned as he was passing so as to make a cillion in evitable.

GRONER PROPERTY FINALLY FIXED AS THE SITE OF THE ENTERPRISE.

FINED AS THE SITE OF THE ENTERPRISE.

It is now determined that the statements of the Virginian-Pilot several months ago were correct. At that time the Virginian-Pilot stated that the Groner property, having 1,700 feet of wharfage on the northwest side of old Fort Norfolk, was to be a site for a great marine railway.

The formal transfer of the property on Monday for the consideration of $50,000 to Charles S. McCulloh, of New York, by, Gen. V. D. Groner, is merely a confirmation of what was stated as partleularly before.

The property mentioned iles on Elizabeth river adjacent to deep water in Atlantic City Ward. Gen. Groner has held this property for a long time in expectation of a market for it, or with the certain assurance that the city's needs would advance to it. That has cocurred. That, of course, is as costly and inconvenient to the owners as it is disadvantageous to Norfolk, hence the need for a marine railway that will accommodate large ships.

The advantages of the Groner site are that there is an abundance of deep water and an excellent land area. There is room on land for the shops and the machinery; there is depth and area of water sufficient to float a good sized fleet of ships.

The land has been surveyed and the plans for the buildings have been determined on, hence, no doubt, the work on the buildings will begin within sixty days. In these shops many skillful men will be required, so that the industry will add to the development and to the wealth of Norfolk.
